OUT OF STATE TRAINING REPORT 2018

Pursuant to section 72-g of the General Municipal Law, fire chiefs report to OFPC the number of firefighters who attended training outside of New York State. Out-of-state training is offered by a variety of institutions, including the United States Department of Homeland Security's National Fire Academy in Emmitsburg Maryland, as well as other professional development conferences and seminars sponsored by other respected fire service organizations.

HAZARDOUS MATERIALS TRAINING

OFPC is required to annually report on the hazardous materials emergency response training program, pursuant to Executive Law 156-a. The training offered by OFPC meets or exceeds federal occupational safety and health regulations pertaining to hazardous materials response, the professional qualification standards established by the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) and the Minimum Standards for Firefighting Personnel in the State of New York. In 2018, OFPC trained 4,740 first responders.
