

MGT-317 – PUBLIC WORKS: PLANNING FOR AND RESPONDING TO A TERRORISM/WMD INCIDENT

No. of Openings: 40
SEPTEMBER 13-14, 2016

WESTCHESTER CO.

2 DAY

ANNOUNCED: MAY 20, 2015

Description:

The Disaster Management for Public Services provides a unique opportunity for public service professionals to extend their knowledge and skills necessary for protecting their communities and infrastructure from potential or actual threats. During this course, participants work together in multidisciplinary teams to apply the course information with their professional experience in a variety of hands-on, small group activities and disaster scenarios.

This course brings together representatives from public service agencies such as utilities and public works, transportation, fire, public safety, city planning/urban development, public health, and local, state, and federal emergency management officials who are expected to identify and mitigate hazards and plan and manage disaster response and recovery efforts within their jurisdictions.

Course Objectives:

The course introduces natural and human-caused disasters to which public services may be vulnerable. This course also explains emergency planning and management and the regulatory systems, documents, and directives that guide disaster response. Response factors, such as hazard control zones, resources, and responder safety are also discussed. Recovery considerations, such as funding assistance and demobilization, are also explained.

Prerequisite:

You must a US citizen to take this course.

Participants are expected to have successfully completed IS-100PWb, IS-200, and IS-700.

Completion of IS-800 is also recommended. These courses can be found online at: <http://training.fema.gov/IS/NIMS.asp>.
