No. of Openings: Min.30/Max.40

NASSAU COUNTY

2 DAYS

OCTOBER 29-30, 2018

LONG ISLAND REGION

ANNOUNCED: APRIL 19, 2018

Description:

The Texas Engineering Extension Service (TEEX) will be offering this course. This course is designed for personnel from any professional background who may become part of a community response to a bombing event. This interactive, instructor-facilitated program employs case studies and research-based information designed to enhance medical preparedness for and response to blast effects. Breakout sessions address considerations and concerns specific both to medical responders and emergency planners.

Objectives:

- Discuss the roles and responsibilities for local, state, and federal levels across a broad range of complex preparedness challenges related to medical countermeasures.
- Apply the Points of Dispensing Command Structure (PDCS) for initial planning, execution, and demobilization of a jurisdictional response in Points of Dispensing (POD) operations.
- Identify the planning and training needs to operate a Points of Dispensing (POD) site.
- Demonstrate the essential functions of Points of Dispensing (POD) setup and operations.
- Discuss the concerns of the community jurisdictional medical countermeasures plan.
