Training Announcement:

Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UAS):

Advanced Operator Course

May 26th—27th, 2020

State Preparedness Training Center

Course Description
The Unmanned Aircraft Systems: Advanced Operator Course (UAS AOC) is designed to improve students’ ability to operate UAS platforms in support of homeland security and public safety missions. Discussion, skill, and scenario-based modules will challenge students to adapt their basic skill sets to unique and unexpected circumstances.

Students will build on their basic skills and mission planning foundation to improve their ability to fly UAS at night, discuss modifications to increase the utility of UAS platforms, and practice close quarters flight. They will then apply these skills to various scenarios that simulate real-world UAS applications and best practices. Throughout the course, the instructional team will provide feedback to help students improve their decision-making, adaptability, and skills proficiency. The night flight portion of the course is not optional to attend, but students may opt to not fly their UAS during it.

Topics Include
UAS capabilities (including hand launch and retrieval, overwatch flight, and payload deployment); Close Quarters Flight, Emergency Operations (including loss of flight telemetry, loss of visual line-of-sight, see and avoid, and manually determining aircraft orientation); Night Flight; and Scenario-Based Activities.
