

Stephen Martini

Stephen Martini serves as Director of the Metro Nashville Department of Emergency Communications since March 2020. Martini started his career in public safety communications in Tennessee in 2004, having served in all roles of Public Safety Answering Point operations and administration in the Emergency Communications Center.