

Course Description

MGT-417 Crisis Management for School-Based Incidents

Description

The purpose of the MGT 417: Crisis Management for School-Based Incidents for Key Decision Makers course is to bring school officials and personnel together to participate in drills and exercises that will strengthen their collective crisis management capabilities when responding to and recovering from school-based incidents in rural communities. With the intent of building upon the groundwork of the AWR 148 course, this two-day management level course enhances the participants, knowledge, skills, and abilities in regard to successfully managing a school crisis. The comprehensive cross-discipline collaboration, focus on rural jurisdictions, and mobility of this course makes it a unique training opportunity for rural communities across the country.

Course Objectives

- Explain how law enforcement personnel and school staff need to work collaboratively to prepare for and respond to school-based crisis incidents.
- Discuss all-hazards as they relate to school-based or school-impacted disasters as well as explain the critical components of Emergency Operation Plans.
- Describe how to plan for and conduct vulnerability assessments as well identify vulnerabilities using real-life examples in a scenario-based application.
- Discuss Threat Assessment Management (TAM) and how it differs from vulnerability assessments.
