Course Description

L-210 Recovery from Disaster: Local Community Roles

Description:

This course addresses concepts in disaster recovery and the latest guidance on recovery planning. Participants will either assess their own recovery plan or a sample against this national planning guidance. Following that, participants will discuss how a disaster recovery effort can be organized, managed, and led along with the types of challenges faced by recovery managers. Case study activities throughout the course give participants the opportunity to target information strategies, address local capabilities and challenges, and analyze experiences from various communities that have experienced disaster.

Course Objectives:

- Increase participants’ knowledge of local government responsibilities and challenges associated with disaster recovery.
- Prepare participants to analyze the need for, develop, revise, and/or implement a pre-disaster recovery plan.
- Provide a forum for discussion of “lessons learned” in disaster recovery at the local level.

Recommended Prerequisites:

- IS-2900.A, National Disaster Recovery Framework (NDRF)
- IS-100.C, Introduction to the Incident Command system
- All participants must have a FEMA Student Identification (FEMA SID) number. Students can search for their existing/create a new FEMA SID at: https://cdp.dhs.gov/femasid/.

Length: 32 Hours

Target Audience:

- Local and Tribal Elected Officials
- Emergency Managers
- Public Works Directors
- Health Care Administrators
- Public Information Officers
- Housing Directors
- Faith-Based Leaders
- Business Organization Representatives
- State Recovery Staff and Partners.
