

Course Description

NY Responds (NYR) Incident Management System Training for Counties

Description

The New York State Disaster Preparedness Commission (DPC) Exercise Coordination Committee is sponsoring a NY Responds (NYR) training course for County personnel.

NY Responds is the web-based solution to integrating and managing multiple functions as part of your daily operations or when assigned to work in your County EOC. The system allows Agencies and Counties to follow the status of their resource request as it moves through the State EOC. This training program will introduce users to the NYR environment from log-in to situation reporting and accessing and using key functions and tools.

Course Curriculum Structure:

- Multi-Incident Management
- Defining 3 types of information that enter the system
- Resource categories and management
- Roles, Rights and EOC information flow
- Creating, Updating, & Viewing Calls
- Situation Reports and IAPs
- System-wide functions & tools, Library, Phonebook
- Geo-Coding reports, requests, and offers
- Managing assets using the asset tab
