

EMERGENCY PREP: FINANCIAL CONSIDERATIONS

In a disaster, the services you depend on to serve your financial needs may not be available for some time, which could have an effect on your ability to purchase things like groceries, fuel, and other critical supplies. When an emergency occurs, it should be simple to obtain rapid access to financial, insurance, medical and other records.

FOUR STEPS TO BETTER FINANCIAL EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

Stash some cash! Paper cash will be handy if banking services aren't functioning in an emergency.

Collect household, financial, legal, medical and other information in one place – both digitally and on paper.

Take some basic steps to ensure your online identity is secure from cyber criminals and scammers.

Purchase property, health, and life insurance and ensure they meet all hazards requirements.
