

Course Description

MGT- 477 Roles for State, Tribal, and Territorial Governments in the Implementation of Disaster Housing Programs

Description:

This instructor-led training will provide the learners with information on how state, local, territory, and tribal (SLTT) governments can plan for and implement disaster housing programs. The course will include an overview of disaster housing task forces, key disaster planning documents (e.g., state housing strategy, disaster housing administrative plan, disaster housing plan), and how to incorporate planning considerations for vulnerable populations. A review of state and federal housing assistance programs will also be addressed. It will include reviewing issues, including: requirements for receiving funds, managing and reporting funds, and closeout requirements.

Objectives:

- Describe how the Disaster Recovery Reform Act of 2018 authorizes FEMA to provide grants to STT governments to administer temporary and permanent housing construction directly
- Identify three concepts of disaster housing and identify the importance of disaster housing planning
- Describe the potential members and goals of a state Disaster Housing Task Force
- Identify the critical components of a state Disaster Housing Strategy and Administrative Plan
- Describe the necessary components of a state disaster housing plan
- Identify applicable disaster housing assistance programs

Prerequisites:

You must be a US Citizen to take this course. If you are not please let us know by email for further instruction at OEM.TRAINING@DHSES.NY.GOV

All participants must have a FEMA Student Identification (FEMA SID) number. Students can search for their existing/create a new FEMA SID at: <https://cdp.dhs.gov/femasid/>.

Length: 7 Hours

Target Audience:

- Emergency Management
- Governmental Administrative
- Public Health
- Citizen/Community Volunteer
- Other

Cost:

There is no fee for the course. Other cost considerations are detailed in each LMS course offering.

Signup Details:

Register through the New York State DHSES Learning Management System. Access the LMS through the link on the calendar webpage.