

Training Announcement: Integrated Response to Aggressive Deadly Behavior

August 10-12, 2026

State Preparedness Training Center

Course Description

Integrated Response to Aggressive Deadly Behavior (IRADB) is designed to prepare law enforcement (LE) and emergency medical services (EMS) to mount an effective integrated response to an incident involving aggressive deadly behavior (ADB).

An increasing number of communities across the county are relying on rescue task forces or other methods of integrated response during critical incidents. The need for effective, unified command and decision-making among EMS, LE and other response agencies is vital. Through interactive discussions, skill lanes, and scenario-based activities, students will enhance their ability to mitigate loss of life by effectively managing the on-scene response from initial arrival through patient transport and reunification. Students will apply the tactics and techniques that enable first responding officers to “stop the killing” and “stop the dying.”

Students will learn the principles of integrating medical personnel into the follow-on response. Students will discuss and practice establishing and maintaining leadership and communication, creating and maintaining Warm Zones and Casualty Collection Points (CCPs) and victim exfiltration.

Topics Include

Establishing Incident Command and a Warm Zone; Integrated Law Enforcement and EMS team tactics for responding to an ASE; Operating in an indirect Threat Area; Establishing a CCP; Life-Saving Medical Interventions and triage.
