

Indicators of the Terrorist Attack Cycle: Advanced

November 3-4, 2016

TRAINING ANNOUNCEMENT

Course Description:

The Indicators of the Terrorist Attack Cycle: Advanced course provides the law enforcement and counter-terrorism communities with an opportunity to enhance observational skills that could help, when coupled with appropriate and timely information sharing and other appropriate interdictions, prevent a terrorist attack on a domestic target.

The course utilizes “red team” group activities as a means for increasing students’ understanding of the planning, surveillance, attack, and escape/evasion/exploitation actions commonly found among terrorist attacks. As the class progresses through the key phases of a terrorist attack, each team will assume the roles of terrorist cell operatives. The team will design surveillance and rehearsal plans, work through the attack phases, and ultimately, plan the escape/evasion/exploitation efforts. The design of the group activities is such that as the students move through each phase, they will ultimately see the evolution of the various phases across three different targets. An essential element of the course is the discussion and reinforcement of the need for timely and appropriate information sharing with government and law enforcement agencies through field intelligence officers (or similar positions), Joint Terrorism Task Forces, and related systems. Students will also have an opportunity to discuss potential interdiction strategies as the phases evolve.

Topics Include:

- The Terrorist Attack Cycle, including:
  - Target Selection, Planning, Surveillance, and Elicitation
  - The Rehearsal Phase
