

TRAINING ANNOUNCEMENT

Patrol Officer Survival (pilot)

May 23-24, 2016

Course Description:

Patrol Officer Survival is a new course designed to improve the situational awareness and survivability skills of law enforcement officers when responding to what is often mistakenly considered a "routine" in service call. The course exposes law enforcement officers to basic tactics, techniques and procedures that, when properly employed, can increase the law enforcement officer's survivability if/when encountering a potentially high-risk situation. This course reinforces the full spectrum of skills and principles learned by law enforcement officers during initial law enforcement training.

Course Provider:

This course is being taught by a team of instructors from the State Preparedness Training Center and the National Center for Security & Preparedness.

Topics Include:

- Review of historical data of assaults on law enforcement officers.
- Commonly accepted mental and physical conditioning practices.
- Movement and techniques for clearing interior spaces during a response to an in service call.
- Application of individual tactics, techniques, and procedures while responding to an in service call.
